OPPOSED BY GOMPER

New York, Feb. 7.—Compulsory arbitration in any form violated the principles of Americanism, declared President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor today, in a statement made to the National Civic Federation.

The A. F. of L. president said that while many employers are fair, many are not, and that the employer's position is one which the laborer cannot win. He said that the laborer is not a party to the contract, but that the contract is made by the employer and the laborer.

"Look at any country on the face of the globe," he said, "and you will find a country in which there are fewer strikes and strikes are less violent than in this country. The lowest standard of living is found in that country. You will find that in that country the laborer is not a party to the contract, but that the contract is made by the employer and the laborer."
